Executive Summary

New York State has had an agency dedicated to serving its innocent crime victims since 1966. The enabling legislation for the agency, only the second of its kind in the country and the first permanent program, was enacted in response to public outcry over the murder of a young man in a subway, leaving behind a widow with little means to care for their 15-month old child. The Mission of the Office of Victim Services is to provide compensation to innocent victims of crime in a timely, efficient and compassionate manner; to fund direct services to crime victims through a network of community-based programs; and to advocate for the rights and benefits of all innocent victims of crime.

Funding for compensation to crime victims comes from a combination of State and Federal monies. The State portion comes from the Criminal Justice Improvement Account (CJIA), which is funded by mandatory surcharges and crime victim assistance fees assessed on certain offenders. The amount of CJIA funding available to OVS depends on legislative appropriation. The Federal funding for compensation and victim and witness assistance grants comes from the Crime Victims Fund, which was established by the Federal Victims of Crime Act (VOCA) of 1984.

OVS provides substantial financial relief to victims of crime and their families. This includes, for example, paying unreimbursed crime-related expenses, such as medical and funeral expenses, loss of earnings or support, crime scene clean-up, the cost to repair or replace items of essential personal property, reasonable court transportation expenses, counseling expenses, moving expenses and the cost of residing at, or using the services of, a domestic violence shelter. Over time, compensation coverage has broadened to include counseling for step-family members, victims of kidnapping and unlawful imprisonment or stalking victims who are not physically injured.

The agency is also responsible for advocating for crime victims' rights, needs and interests in New York State. This advocacy role has resulted in the agency developing legislation, subsequently enacted, that has protected and extended the rights of crime victims and expanded the services and assistance available to them.

OVS has received funding from the New York State Legislature since 1981-82 for the sole purpose of awarding grants to community-based programs so those providers can serve crime victims and witnesses. The agency has received federal VOCA funds for this same purpose since 1986-87. OVS funded 225 local victim assistance programs (VAPs) during 2015-16.

This report reflects the Office of Victim Services' efforts and accomplishments in meeting the needs of crime victims during New York State's fiscal year 2015-16. Highlights include:

- Launching the Victim Service Portal (VSP) in April 2015, an online system that makes submitting claims easy and efficient. The online system also allows applicants to upload and electronically submit all necessary documentation in support of their claim. The VSP was first made available to victim advocates in Western New York in early April and was then rolled out to VAPs in all other regions throughout April and May. Individuals could submit claims online as of late 2015. More than 9,000 claims were submitted through the Victim Services Portal during 2015-16, which was more than half of the claims submitted to OVS during this period. OVS will continually evaluate the VSP to ensure that it meets the needs of the agency, victim advocates and individuals. During the first year alone, the OVS made several improvements to the system based on user feedback.

- Also in April, OVS observed National Crime Victims' Rights Week. The agency promoted the national theme – Engaging Communities – Empowering Victims – by partnering with the New York State Justice Center for the Protection of People with Special Needs to reach victims with disabilities and special needs, their advocates and families to make them aware of services available from OVS and victim assistance programs in their communities.
- For the first time since 2009, OVS hosted a training conference for advocates from victim assistance programs funded by the agency. Hosted in Liverpool, Onondaga County, on Oct. 27 through 29, the training was attended by more than 400 professionals and featured 30 workshops and presentations by survivors of crime who had been assisted by OVS and VAPs. Evaluations of the conference were overwhelmingly positive.
- OVS applied for, and received, a Federal Fiscal Year 2015 Victim Assistance Discretionary Grant Training Program for VOCA-funded victim assistance programs for $1,418,202. This grant will be used to provide training to the staff of the 225 VAPs funded by the agency on the following topics: fiscal literacy, how to develop a strategic plan, and how to conduct a program evaluation. The training grant also will fund four training academies throughout the State and the agency's annual conference.
- The agency also applied for, and received, a second federal grant of $500,000 to support Phase II of its project to create the Crime Victims Legal Network, a unique online tool that will allow crime victims outside of New York City to determine the type of civil legal help they need and connect with resources to ensure their interests are represented. The agency will use the Final Report and the Implementation Plan created in Phase I to pilot the Crime Victims Legal Network in targeted areas and providing a subset of civil legal services that have been identified as necessary. Future phases are planned to expand the Network to serve all of New York State outside of New York City. OVS is partnering with the Empire Justice Center, Pro Bono Net and the Center for Human Services Research at the University of Albany on the project.
- More than 100 victim assistance programs successfully applied to OVS' Model Office Request for Applications and received $1.5 million in federal grants to modernize their offices. The funding allowed those programs to purchase equipment – scanners, computers and printers – and software used for filing claims through the state's Victim Service Portal. Programs also purchased mobile devices or tablets that will allow their staff to file claims whenever – and wherever – they meet with victims.

Agency Operations

Structure

The agency's Director is appointed by the Governor and oversees operation of the agency.

The OVS executive team includes the Deputy Director of Administration who oversees Finance, Grants and Operations; a General Counsel who leads the Legal Unit; and Deputy Director of Claims who manages the Crime Victim Compensation investigation teams, advocates and Additional Medical and Vocational Rehabilitation Units.

The staffing target for the agency is 74 employees.

Powers and Duties of the Agency (Executive Law Section 623)

- 1. To establish and maintain a principal office and such other offices within the state as it may deem necessary.

The agency's principal office is located at 80 South Swan St., Albany, 12210, with a second office at 55 Hanson Place, Brooklyn, 11217. The office 65 Court St., Buffalo, 14202, was closed in November 2015.

- 2. To appoint a secretary, counsel, clerks and such other employees and agents as it may deem necessary, fix their compensation within the limitations provided by law, and prescribe their duties.

The agency's staffing target was 74 employees. Duties performed by staff are related to the agency's compensation program, its victim/witness assistance program, and its statutorily mandated advocacy role.

- 3. To adopt, promulgate, amend and rescind suitable rules and regulations to carry out the provisions and purposes of article twenty-two, including rules for the determination of claims, rules for the approval of attorneys' fees for representation before the office and/or before the appellate division upon judicial review as provided for in section six hundred twenty-nine of article twenty-two, and rules for the authorization of qualified persons to assist claimants in the preparation of claims for presentation to the office.

During 2015-16, the agency adopted regulations related to Executive Law Article 22. The agency's regulations were amended to limit attorney's fees, making those fees a reimbursable expense under a claim only for successful representation before OVS during an administrative appeal or the judicial review of an OVS final determination. The agency's regulations were also amended to create standards for the reduction or denial of a claim based on a victim's contributing conduct.

- 4. To request from the Division of State Police, from county or municipal police departments and agencies and from any other state or municipal department or agency, or public authority, and the same are hereby authorized to provide, such assistance and data as will enable the Office to carry out its functions and duties.

In order to verify the stated crime and loss information submitted by crime victims to OVS, the agency requested needed information from the police, district attorneys' offices, child protective services, courts and other criminal justice agencies and authorities.

- 5. To hear and determine all claims for awards filed with the Office pursuant to article twenty-two, and to reinvestigate or reopen cases as necessary.

During 2015-16, OVS rendered 16,501 original decisions: claims awarded and claims denied. The agency also reinvestigated or reopened claims as necessary.

In order to determine the causal relationship between the injuries claimed by victims and the medical services provided or to be provided, the agency made five referrals in 2015-16 to medical, psychological, chiropractic or dental consultants.

7. To hold hearings, administer oaths or affirmations, examine any person under oath or affirmation and to issue subpoenas requiring the attendance and giving of testimony of witnesses and require the production of any books, papers, documentary or other evidence. The powers provided in this subdivision may be delegated by the Director to any member or employee. A subpoena issued under this subdivision shall be regulated by the civil practice law and rules.

The agency reviewed 67 claim decisions and rendered new decisions as a result of appeals submitted by crime victims or their family members. As part of this process, the agency administered oaths and affirmations and issued subpoenas and took testimony when necessary.

8. To take or cause to be taken affidavits or depositions within or without the State.

OVS has taken affidavits or depositions when it was deemed necessary.

9. To establish and maintain a special investigative unit to expedite processing of claims by senior citizens and special emergency situations, and to promote the establishment of a volunteer program of home visitation to elderly and invalid victims of violent crime.

OVS has designated an essential personal property (EPP) unit to handle only EPP claims. Individuals who are 60 years old or older submit the majority of original awarded claims for EPP only, so this unit now expedites those claims. There are numerous OVS-funded victim assistance programs serving older adults and the elderly across the state.

10. To advise and assist the Governor in developing policies designed to recognize the legitimate rights, needs and interests of crime victims.

OVS annually submits a list of legislative proposals to the Governor for his review and subsequent development of his legislative program. OVS reviews legislation at the request of the Governor and provides comment on the impact, if any, to the agency and crime victims.

11. To coordinate state programs and activities relating to crime victims.

During the fiscal year, OVS staff met regularly with its Advisory Council and crime victims' coalitions and other crime victim advocates. The agency's Director serves on the New York State Sentencing Commission, the state's Domestic Violence Advisory Council, the state's Interagency Task Force on Human Trafficking, New York State Children's Justice Task Force, the New York State Council for Interstate Juvenile Supervision, New York State Judicial Committee on Women in the Courts, the United States Sentencing Commission's Victims Advisory Group, New York State Interagency Council on Homelessness, New York State Supreme Criminal Court E-Filing Committee, and the Violence Against Women Act Advisory Committee. OVS is also represented on the New York State Interagency Task Force on HIV/AIDS, the New York State Traumatic Brain Injury Committee, the state's Committee for the Coordination of Police Services to Elderly Persons, the state's Disaster Preparedness Commission, the National Association of Crime Victim Compensation Boards, and the National Association of VOCA Assistance Administrators.

12. To cooperate with and assist political subdivisions of the State and not-for-profit organizations in the development of local programs for crime victims.

Information and referral services have been requested by, and provided to, municipal police departments and county sheriffs' offices, county executives and district attorneys' offices.

The agency also supported the 225 victim/witness assistance programs it funded in 2015-16. These programs provided services ranging from crisis intervention and counseling to assisting crime victims with filing for compensation. The agency's Grants Unit also provided VAP trainings in regional and individual site locations, reaching approximately 600 individuals. Training topics included compensation, VOCA guidelines, fiscal reporting guidelines and OVS guidelines. When necessary, OVS provided technical assistance and sent advisory bulletins on current issues or policies to all programs. Those bulletins also are available online: www.ovs.ny.gov

13. To study the operation of laws and procedures affecting crime victims and recommend to the Governor and Legislature proposals to improve the administration and effectiveness of such laws.

OVS tracks legislative bills that could affecting crime victims and their rights. The agency also keeps apprised of rules and regulations proposed by other state agencies, including but not limited to: the Division of Criminal Justice Services, the Department of Corrections and Community Supervision, the Justice Center for the Protection of People with Special Needs, the New York State Police, the Office for the Prevention of Domestic Violence, and the Office of Mental Health, that could potentially affect crime victims.

14. To establish an Advisory Council to assist in formulation of policies on the problems of crime victims and to provide recommendations to the Director to improve the delivery of services to victims by the Office.

Experts in the field of victim assistance, human services and criminal justice have provided the agency with knowledge and expertise relating to crime victim policy and service delivery through the Advisory Council since its creation in March 1985.

15. To work with national associations, statewide coalitions, regional coalitions, victim service providers, and other advocates to address and advance the rights and interests of crime victims of the state.

OVS consults regularly with the National Association of Crime Victim Compensation Boards, and the National Association of VOCA Assistance Administrators and participates in their regional and national conferences. In addition, OVS staff attends regional coalition meetings around the state and works with victim assistance programs, allied professionals and other state agencies to advance the rights and interests of crime victims in New York State.

16. To promote and conduct studies, research, analysis and investigations of matters affecting the interests of crime victims.

As needed and requested, OVS conducted several programmatic and fiscal analyses related to its compensation program.

17. To coordinate training opportunities for crime victim advocates and service providers.

The agency provides compensation training to VAP staff monthly to help ensure that victim advocates are fully informed about the benefits available to innocent crime victims. In addition, the Grants Unit staff train VAPs on issues related to their grants with the agency and Legal staff offers training on restitution and the Direct Reimbursement Forensic Rape Exam program. Grants Unit staff also provide on-site technical assistance to VAPs as needed.

18. To serve as a clearinghouse for information relating to crime victims' problems and programs.

OVS continues to maintain a multi-disciplinary clearinghouse of studies, books, reports, journals, and other printed materials relating to crime victims. These materials address the rights, needs and interests of crime victims as they pertain to victim compensation, victim assistance and the status of victims in the criminal justice system.

- 19. To accept, with approval of the Governor, as agent of the state, any grants including federal grants, or any gifts for the purpose of article twenty-two. Any monies so received may be expended by the Office to effectuate any purpose of article twenty-two, subject to the applicable provisions of the State Finance Law.

In 2015-16, OVS received $9,376,000 in federal funds for victim compensation and $118,676,064 in federal funds for victim assistance.

- 20. To render each year to the Governor and to the Legislature, on or before December first of each year, a written report on the office's activities including, but not limited to, specific information on each of the subdivisions of this section. Such report shall also include but not be limited to information regarding crime victim service programs, including:

- a. the programs funded by the office;
- b. other sources of funding for crime victims service programs;
- c. an assessment of the adequacy of the current level of appropriation to the office to meet the reasonable needs of crime victims service programs for funding under section six hundred thirty-one-a of this article; and
- d. an estimate of the reasonable needs of programs in the next fiscal year.

A list of funded victim assistance programs (VAPs) is attached at the end of this report. The state's Criminal Justice Improvement Account also provides financial support for these programs, with funding determined annually by legislative appropriation.

Funding in both the current year and subsequent years' budgets is adequate to meet the funding needs of VAPs. In fact, federal appropriations were increased to reflect the increase in the State's Victim and Witness Assistance federal grant, the federal training grant and a federal grant to establish a Civil Legal Network for crime victims. In addition, funding for VAPs in 2016-17 is $71.7 million, which is sufficient to meet the needs of these programs.

- 21. To render biennially to the Governor and the Legislature a written report on the manner in which the rights, needs and interests of crime victims are being addressed by the state's criminal justice system to include, but not be limited to:

- a. Information transmitted by the state Office of Probation and Correctional Alternatives under Criminal Procedural Law Section 390.30, Subdivision 5 and Family Court Act Section 351.1, Subdivision 7, which the board shall compile, review and make recommendations on how to promote the use of restitution and encourage its enforcement.

- b. Information relating to the implementation of and compliance with Executive Law Article 23 by the criminal justice agencies and the "crime victim-related agencies" of the state.

Chapter 489 of the Laws of 2014 changed the agency's reporting requirements related to victim impact statements, restitution, and fair treatment standards for crime victims, from once a year in its annual report, to once, every two years in a separate, stand-alone report. The OVS 2014-15 Annual Report was the last to report under those previous requirements. The first stand-alone report pursuant to Chapter 489 is scheduled to be issued in 2017. This report will cover the first, two-year period since the law's enactment: state fiscal years 2015-16 and 2016-17.

22. To make grants to local crime victim service programs and carry out related duties under section 631-a of article twenty-two.

Approximately $67 million in state and federal funds were appropriated to the agency for grant-making purposes in 2015-16, allowing OVS to assist crime victims by funding 225 programs across the state. In addition to auditing and monitoring functions, the Grants Unit provided continuing technical assistance and support to these programs.

23. To delegate to specified employees of the Office the power to disallow claims under circumstances where regulations of the Office provide for disallowance without prejudice to reopening of claims.

Rules and regulations implementing this subdivision are in place. These rules allow staff to close specific types of claims without prejudice to their reopening.

Compensation and Claims Processing

OVS plays a key role in helping to ensure that crime victims are aware of its services, their rights in the criminal justice system and existence of victim assistance programs in their communities.

The agency provides information cards detailing OVS locations, phone numbers, website and services to police departments and sheriffs' offices, which are required to distribute them to crime victims. The card also includes basic rights afforded to crime victims and a space to write information about appropriate local victim assistance programs. The cards also are available online for downloading and printing as needed.

OVS also distributes a poster detailing its services to police departments and sheriffs' offices, district attorneys' offices, courts, hospitals and victim assistance programs, among others. State law mandates the creation and distribution of this poster.

The agency also was required to work with the state Division of Criminal Justice Services (DCJS) to develop a form that must be used by all district attorney offices to report the distribution of the OVS publication, The Rights of Crime Victims in New York State. The law also requires district attorneys to complete the form annually and submit it to OVS each year by January 1. Additionally, district attorneys are required to make this publication available to crime victims or their families at no cost or to others for a fee not to exceed the cost of reproduction.

Who may be eligible for compensation?

- The victim must be an innocent victim of the crime
- Victims of crime who were physically injured as a result of the crime
- Victims of crime who are under 18, older than 60, or disabled, who were not physically injured
- Certain relatives and dependents, including spouse, grandparent, parent, stepparent, guardian, brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, child or stepchild of a victim
- Those who paid for or incurred burial costs for an innocent crime victim
- Child victims and/or a child who witnesses a crime
- Certain victims of unlawful imprisonment or kidnapping
- Certain stalking victims
- Victims of terrorist acts outside of the United States who are a resident of New York State
- Victims of frivolous lawsuits brought by a person who committed a crime against the victim

Compensation includes:

- Expenses for medical or other related services not covered by other insurance or benefit programs
- Lost earnings or loss of support up to $600 a week, not to exceed the maximum of $30,000
- Burial expenses up to $6,000 (for crimes committed on or after Nov. 1, 1996)
- Occupational rehabilitation expenses
- Counseling services to the victim and to certain family members are paid in accordance to the OVS fee schedule, which is based on reasonable fee rates depending on the credentials of the treating counselor
- The cost of repair or replacement of essential personal property lost, damaged or destroyed as the direct result of a crime up to $500. A maximum of $100 in cash can be replaced.
- Transportation expenses for necessary court appearances in connection with the prosecution of the crime or transportation for medical appointments necessary as a result of the crime
- The cost of residing at or utilizing the services of a domestic violence shelter
- Crime scene cleanup expenses and/or cost of securing a crime scene up to $2,500
- Attorney fees – up to a maximum of $1,000 – for representation before the agency and/or before an appellate court upon judicial review of the victim's OVS claim

The Claim Process

Emergency Awards

In those instances where a crime victim will suffer undue hardship and is likely to be eligible for compensation, OVS may provide an emergency award before a final decision is made on the claim. Under these conditions, the agency is authorized to award up to $2,500. OVS typically authorizes emergency awards for burial expenses, medication, relocation expenses, security devices, lost earnings/support or emergency medical equipment.

The crime victim must still meet the agency's eligibility criteria. Individuals applying for emergency awards must know the police department or precinct where the crime was reported and the assigned police complaint number.

During fiscal year 2015-16, the agency approved 414 emergency awards totaling $799,944.

Individuals eligible for emergency assistance can apply by:

- Visiting an OVS-funded program in their community;
- Faxing an application to (518) 402-0921.

OVS will determine an individual's eligibility within 24 to 72 hours, depending on the information provided and nature of the claim. Additional information about emergency awards is available by calling 1-800-247-8035, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Forensic Rape Examination Direct Reimbursement

OVS directly reimburses providers that are licensed by New York State to perform forensic rape examination services. The reimbursement fee covers the examiner's services, related facility costs, basic laboratory tests and pharmaceuticals.

This reimbursement system is designed to ensure that sexual assault survivors are not billed for any forensic rape examination services and is an exception to the OVS payer of last resort rule. The agency will reimburse the provider if an individual does not have private health insurance or opts not to use their health insurance; this provides for the personal privacy of sexual assault victims. If a victim voluntarily elects to use his or her private health insurance benefits to cover the forensic exam, the facility performing the exam may not bill OVS. A licensed health care provider must file a direct reimbursement claim form and an itemized bill for services with OVS within one year of the examination to receive reimbursement.

OVS reimbursed health care providers $4,169,556 on 5,337 forensic rape examination claims during 2015-16; the reimbursement rate is $800. This fee is reviewed annually and may, if appropriate, be adjusted by OVS in consultation with the state Department of Health.

Claims

The Office of Victim Services handles three types of compensation claims: personal injury, death, and essential personal property.

Law enforcement agencies, hospitals and OVS-funded victim assistance programs (VAPs) are required to provide crime victims with information about compensation available through the agency. OVS provides victim notification cards, claim applications, brochures and posters to these entities for that purpose.

VAPs are required to assist victims with filing applications with OVS, which also will accept claims directly from individuals. Certain documents are required for OVS to accept a claim; those documents depend on the type of crime and the type of victim: for example, a child or someone older than 60. The agency then investigates each claim to determine whether an individual is eligible for assistance. If an individual is deemed eligible, OVS awards the claim.

The following details the number of claims accepted for review to determine eligibility for the most recent 10 fiscal years:

Fiscal Year	Total Claims Accepted
2006-2007	13,699
2007-2008	13,602
2008-2009	15,929
2009-2010	16,910
2010-2011	18,120
2011-2012	17,804
2012-2013	16,745
2013-2014	17,262
2014-2015	15,840
2015-2016	15,683

While the agency primarily assists victims of violent crimes (murder, rape, robbery or assault) who have suffered personal injury, it also can compensate victims of certain other crimes, such as burglary, larceny, stalking, kidnapping and unlawful imprisonment, who have not been injured.

Under certain circumstances, OVS also can repair or replace personal property if an individual did not sustain personal injury. During 2015-16, the agency accepted 2,961 of those types of claims, which represented 19 percent of the total claims accepted in the fiscal year.

Claims Accepted by Type 2015-16

Claim Type	Accepted
Personal Injury	11,945
Death	777
Essential Personal Property	2,961
<hr/>
Total Claims Accepted	15,683

Claims Awarded

OVS awarded a total of 9,014 claims during the 2015-16.

It is important to note that claims awarded in a fiscal year do not directly correlate to the number of claims accepted by the agency in that year. A claim accepted during one fiscal year may be awarded in a subsequent year.

Claim Type	Awarded
Personal Injury	7,162
Death	501
Essential Personal Property	1,351
<hr/>
Total Claims Awarded	9,014

Awarded Claims by Age and Gender

Nearly one third of all claims awarded involved individuals who ranged in age from 18 to 29.

Awarded claims involved more female victims than males (55 percent as compared to 44 percent). The gender of the victim in the remaining 1 percent of claims was not reported, designated as "u" for unknown in the chart on the following page.

Awarded Claims by Age and Gender

Age	Gender	Claims Awarded
0-12	F	359
0-12	M	165
0-12	U	6
13-17	F	233
13-17	M	179
13-17	U	6
18-29	F	1,646
18-29	M	1,086
18-29	U	29
30-44	F	1,418
30-44	M	873
30-44	U	23
45-59	F	733
45-59	M	736
45-59	U	20
60 and older	F	792
60 and older	M	699
60 and older	U	11
		Total: 9,014

Claims Paid

A claim can be awarded in one fiscal year but not paid until a following year. In addition, claims can continue to be paid over multiple years. As a result, the number of claims paid during any given fiscal year can exceed the number of claims awarded during that year.

The following chart does not include payments made on emergency awards (see Page 15 for that information).

Claim Type	Paid	Amount
Personal Injury	5,188	$13,301,130
Death	569	$2,537,461

“No Award” Decisions

During 2015-16, OVS determined that 7,486 claims were ineligible for assistance; these are known as “no award” decisions. It is important to note that these claims may have been received by the agency either that fiscal year or a prior fiscal year.

The agency deemed nearly half of those claims ineligible because individuals did not provide necessary documentation and/or information to enable OVS to make a decision. Those 3,728 “no information supplied” determinations can be reopened if an individual subsequently provides necessary documents for the agency to reevaluate the claim. Another 827 claims were determined not eligible under the law, with an additional 683 claims ineligible for administrative reasons: they were duplicates, withdrawn by the applicant or the individuals who filed the claims could not be located.

Other common reasons that resulted in an ineligible decision include: the individual did not cooperate with law enforcement, a police report could not be located, a child was not the witness or victim to the crime, and the individual did not have any compensable loss.

Appeals

Within 30 days of a decision date, individuals may make an application in writing to the OVS Director for an administrative review of the agency’s decision.

Appeals that proceed are brought before an Administrative Review Panel, which hears any evidence or argument by the individual relevant to the claim. The panel’s decision, either affirming or modifying the agency’s decision, becomes the final decision of OVS.

Individuals may challenge the final decision of the Administrative Review Panel by commencing a proceeding pursuant to Article 78 of the state’s Civil Practice Rules and Laws within four months of the panel’s decision.

During 2015-16, 67 claimants appealed the agency’s decision. Some of those appeals were scheduled and determined during that same fiscal year while others were heard in the subsequent fiscal year.

The Administrative Review Panel reviewed 80 decisions in 2015-16, many of which were from previous fiscal years; 69 percent of those decisions were affirmed without changes.

Rejected Claims

Rejected claims are those that OVS could not process because they were missing required information about the claimant or the crime.

During 2015-16, the agency rejected 1,806 applications. It is the policy of OVS to contact claimants whose applications are rejected to seek the missing information. If at any time that information is submitted, the agency will process the claim. The following chart details reasons for claims being rejected.

Reasons for Rejected Claims

Vocational Rehabilitation Services and Additional Medical Services

The agency's Vocational Rehabilitation Unit strives to improve the quality of life for individuals who have been permanently disabled as a direct result of a crime. The unit is staffed by a registered nurse who:

- Manages the vocational and occupational rehabilitation program for victims and survivors of crime;
- Reviews the claimant's treatment plan to ensure services are allowable and related to the crime;
- Refers the claimant to an independent medical consultant as needed for further professional opinion on service needs and causal-related services;
- Reviews any requests for home modifications necessary as a result of a disability due to a crime (the home modification process takes on average between 12 and 18 months to complete);
- Reviews requests from claimants for costly medical equipment (i.e. wheelchairs, beds, prosthesis, vehicle modifications etc.) and works with vendors for reasonable and customary costs;
- Assists the agency's Additional Medical Unit with interpreting medical bills and records;
- Reviews medical bills, reports and claimant requests for appropriateness to injuries sustained from the crime;
- Reviews requests for educational assistance for job retraining; and
- Develops and maintains cooperative relationships with community resources to assist the victim in achieving pre-injury status or maximum potential.

Vocational Rehabilitation Services and Additional Medical Disbursements

The agency's Additional Medical Claims Unit, staffed by a senior supervisor, seven agency program aides and one support staff member, is responsible for processing medical bills received as a result of an awarded claim.

Individuals may submit requests for reimbursement at any time for causally related expenses, including medical and mental health care. Some individuals submit bills throughout the course of their lifetime.

During 2015-16, the Additional Medical Unit approved:

- 450 claims for counseling, totaling $929,181
- 62 claims for homecare for disabled individuals, totaling $4,037,621
- 1,620 claims for other medical and related expenses, totaling $6,485,992

In addition, OVS also paid $405,469 for vocational rehabilitation benefits, such as vehicle modifications, durable medical equipment and home modifications. Additional details are included the chart on Page 24.

Grants Unit

The Grants Unit is responsible for:

- Distributing grants funded by the federal Victims of Crime Act (VOCA) to community-based providers so they can serve crime victims and their families. The unit oversees the open, competitive process that determines how those grants are awarded. Grant contracts align with the federal fiscal year (Oct. 1 through Sept. 30).
- Administering those grants and monitoring the agencies that receive them. Victim assistance programs (VAPs) provide a comprehensive array of services, such as crisis intervention, legal assistance, counseling, emergency financial assistance, transportation, intervention, information, referrals, telephone counseling, and assistance with filing for compensation and other benefits.
- Overseeing and supporting the activities of the OVS Advisory Council.
- Coordinating statewide training for VAPs and other agencies, including law enforcement and health care providers.

Victim Assistance Programs

OVS receives state and federal funding to provide grants to community-based service providers that assist crime victims and witnesses across New York State. Providers receiving these grants include criminal justice agencies, such as police and probation departments and district attorneys' and sheriffs' offices; hospitals and health care providers; and non-profit organizations, such as YWCAs, rape crisis centers, and community action programs.

Nearly all of the funding available for grants is the result of fines, fee and surcharges paid by certain offenders convicted in state or federal court. The agency received $51 million in federal VOCA funds for these grants. In addition, the state Legislature appropriated $13 million in funding from the state's Criminal Justice Improvement Account and $2.8 million in general funds for grant making during 2015-16.

Service providers must respond to a Request for Proposals issued by OVS to be considered for funding. This process allows the Grants Unit to assess a program's ability to serve crime victims and their families, using criteria including, but not limited to, the program's past performance and other resources available within a geographical area. Grant funding allows providers to maintain or in some cases, expand services to their communities.

Many programs for crime victims and witnesses would not exist without funding from OVS. For example, the agency is a major source of funding for the Victim Information and Notification Everyday (VINE) program. This program – offered by the state Department of Corrections and Community Supervision, and the New York State Sheriffs' Association – notifies individuals whenever an offender's incarceration status in a local or state correctional facility changes.

During 2015-16, OVS awarded grants to the following providers for direct services and/or upgrade technology and equipment to better serve victims. Providers listed more than once offer multiple programs that serve crime victims:

Grants Unit Sponsored Training

The Grants Unit provides training and updates by hosting regional meetings with providers in five geographic regions of the state monthly, bi-monthly or quarterly.

Topics include compensation benefits and claims processing, fiscal reporting requirements, VOCA guidelines, and updates on OVS regulations and guidelines. Additionally, program monitors provide technical assistance and training to victim assistance programs as part of their on-site monitoring responsibilities. Claims Processing Unit investigators also teach monthly compensation training in Albany and Brooklyn for victim assistance programs.

Statewide Conference

For the first time since 2009, OVS hosted a statewide conference for victim assistance programs it funds. The three-day conference included workshops that addressed cutting-edge concepts and emerging issues in the victim services field, including therapy and counseling; self-care and self-improvement for victim advocates; and supervisory and management topics, including succession planning. The agency hosted the event from Oct. 27 through 29 in Liverpool, Onondaga County. Survivors of crime also spoke at the event, sharing their stories and how OVS and victim advocate assisted them on their journey from crime victim to survivor.

Statewide Advisory Council

Under Executive Law Article 22 Section 623 (14), the Office of Victim Services can establish an advisory council “to assist in formulation of policies on the problems of crime victims and to provide recommendations to the director to improve the delivery of services to victims by the office.”

Pursuant to the protocol that establishes the Council, it must have 16 members who have demonstrated an active interest in, or professional knowledge of, the problems, needs and treatment of victims. Appointed by OVS, members serve three-year terms and each year, elect a president and vice president to lead the Council.

The New York State Coalition Against Domestic Violence and the New York State Coalition Against Sexual Assault each must have a representative on the Council. Members must be active members of one of the five regional crime victim service provider coalitions. In addition, members of the Legislature or other individuals having a special interest in victim issues may be invited to serve as non-voting, ex-officio members.

The Council has five standing committees with the following responsibilities:

- The Legislative Committee studies and suggests legislation for consideration by the agency, in addition to monitoring legislation related to crime victims and keeping the Council informed of any relevant changes.
- The Program Committee reviews, analyzes, and reports on victim, fiscal, and administrative issues common among service providers funded by the agency. The committee focuses on concerns directly affecting program administration, including, but not limited, to budgeting, staffing and the grant process.
- The Compensation and Service Committee informs the agency of unmet needs and advises how to improve services for crime victims. The committee reviews and discusses victim compensation issues and may recommend changes to compensation applications, benefits and services.
- The Social Justice Committee studies the effects of social and economic inequality on marginalized populations of crime victims and reports findings and recommendations to the agency to address those issues.
- The Public Outreach Committee notifies the agency of efforts to inform crime victims and the general public on victims’ issues, linking efforts from across the state and offering planning and implementation information to any service provider.

Public Awareness and Outreach

During the past three years, the OVS has expanded its public awareness efforts. The agency works to reach victims of crime and increase awareness of the agency in a variety of ways: funding service providers across the state; sponsoring trainings and events, especially during National Crime Victims' Rights Week; making presentations to agencies and non-profit organizations that come in contact with crime victims; and collaborating with local and state agencies, among other activities. The agency maintains a website (www.ovs.ny.gov) and publishes and distributes brochures and posters detailing its services and programs.

The agency's Executive Staff actively participate in the National Association of Crime Victims Compensation Boards (NACVCB) and the National Association of VOCA Assistance Administrators (NAVAA). Attendance at regional and national meetings, coupled with e-mail correspondence among members of these organizations, allow OVS staff to learn about practices in other states, problems they face and new issues and developments in the field.

The agency marked National Crime Victims' Rights Week from April 19 through 25, 2015 by:

- Hosting a press conference in Monroe County featuring Lieutenant Governor Kathy Hochul as the keynote speaker. The agency partnered with the state's Justice Center for the Protection of People with Special Needs on the event; Monroe County is one of four in the state piloting a task force aimed at enhancing the investigation and prosecution of cases involving individuals with disabilities and special needs. Also at the event, OVS unveiled its redesigned poster and throughout the year distributed it to victim assistance programs, hospitals, local government offices and police agencies, among other organizations and agencies, across the state.
- Sponsoring its eight annual blood drive in Albany. A total of 28 individuals donated, with each of those donations having the potential to save three lives, according to the American Red Cross, which partnered with the agency. Governor Andrew M. Cuomo also issued a proclamation declaring the week as National Crime Victims' Rights Week in New York State.

Other outreach efforts include:

- Highlighting current news, events and training on the agency website's home page so it is easily accessible to the public and service providers; and
- Continuing to provide training and education, presented by the agency's legal staff, on a variety of topics, including compensation, the forensic rape examination program, human trafficking, and crime victim restitution. The agency's presentation titled "Crime Victim's Compensation and the Issue of Restitution" is accredited by the New York State Continuing Legal Education Board. Any attorney who attends the presentation receives 1.5 Continuing Legal Education (CLE) credits.

“Son of Sam” Law

New York State enacted Section 632-a of the Executive Law in 1977 in response to numerous offers made by the media to pay serial killer David Berkowitz for the right to tell his story. The statute is commonly known as the state’s Son of Sam law, after one of the monikers given to Berkowitz. The law permits profits of a crime, such as money received for a book or movie that details the crime, to be diverted to victims.

Since its passage, the law has been amended to withstand a constitutional challenge and to add a new category, “funds of a convicted person.” The law defines funds of a convicted person as all funds and property received from any source by individuals convicted of certain state and federal crimes committed in New York State. The law also requires that anyone paying or receiving profits from a crime or funds of a convicted person notify OVS of those funds.

For funds of a convicted person, OVS must determine whether the underlying crime committed by the perpetrator is a specified crime detailed in law (primarily serious felonies). No such determination is necessary if the agency receives notice of profits from a crime.

OVS then notifies crime victims and inquires whether they want the agency to freeze those funds or profits, enabling victims to retain a lawyer and initiate a lawsuit. Victims have three years to sue the perpetrator from the discovery of either source of funds.

During 2015-16, the agency froze $10,377,047 under the “funds of a convicted person” portion of the law. There was no activity from “profits from a crime.” The following chart details 10 years’ worth of activity under the law:

Fiscal Year	Amount Frozen
2006-07	$547,741
2007-08	$397,284
2008-09	$1,334,683
2009-10	$3,570,143
2010-11	$1,197,610
2011-12	$1,731,159
2012-13	$2,350,389
2013-14	$1,272,371
2014-15	$1,620,131
2015-16	$10,377,047

Subrogation and Restitution

When OVS provides a monetary award to a crime victim, the agency has a lien on any funds recovered by the victim as a result of a civil proceeding brought against the defendant or any other responsible third party. The State also is authorized to commence a civil action against a victim's assailant or any liable third party if the victim declines to do so. This assignment to the State of the victim's cause of action is called subrogation. If a civil action results in the victim receiving a financial award greater than the OVS award, the agency only receives the amount equal to what it paid the victim.

Restitution is money paid to a victim by the perpetrator of the crime and is designed to compensate the victim for the losses he/she incurred as a result of the crime. OVS has a lien on restitution when the agency makes a monetary award to the claimant and the claimant receives restitution for the same loss.

The agency's presentation, "Crime Victim's Compensation and the Issue of Restitution," is accredited by the New York State Continuing Legal Education Board. OVS pursued this accreditation so that more attorneys would attend the course, bringing added attention to the issue of restitution and increasing the instances of awards to victims.
